PASSED IN REVIEW

Ten Thousand Survivors of the Late Civil War Marched to Martial Tunes.

EMPTY SLEEVES AND LIMPING GAIT

"It is My Last March," Said Many of the Grizzled Veterans as They Started Out.

The States With the Largest Number of Men in Line Were California First, Illinois Second and Ohio Third.

San Francisco, Aug. 20.—Ten thousand survivors of the civil war passed in review Wednesday, marching to the martial tunes that inspired them to endeavor 40 years ago. Above the national colors, borne by every marcher, proudly floated torn and tattered flags. These, with empty sleeves and limping gait, were eloquent reminders of the sorrow and glory of war.

As the different divisions marched along, waves of sentiment passed over marchers and spectators. There were many still vigorous in line but they waited for their weaker comrades and the column halted often on its two-mile course.

"It's my last march," said many a grizzled veteran as he started out. "It is now or never, and I am going to try." One bent old man, 70 years of age, with the Wisconsin delegation, could not be dissuaded. His gait grew slower from block to block and he would have fallen had he not been held by two of his companions. Two civilians stepped from the spectators and led him out of the line.

In the long lines were men from every corner of the nation. Veterans who perhaps had enlisted from Maine or some other far away state wore the badges of western commonwealth, showing the growth of the nation they fought to keep intact. Of all the states California excepted, the one that had the largest number in line was Illinois, but Ohio was a close second.

Almost every delegation had its emblem, Ohio its buckeye, Connecticut a wooden nutmeg, Minnesota a loaf of bread and so on.

At the head of the procession rode a veteran on a bicycle. Whenever the marchers halted he circled around with the ease of a boy until the line moved on again.

One thousand men marched under the yellow banner of Illinois. At the head marched Col. Thomas G. Lawler, past commander-in-chief of the grand army. As usual the Badger state posts fell in after Illinois and closed up the first division. All of the Wisconsin officers were on foot, while the New York, Illinois and Ohio delegations were supplied with horses as well as bands to accompany their divisions.

Pennsylvania headed the second division, and in the line appeared five survivors of the First Pennsylvania rifles, "The Bucktails."

And other states had features that drew the attention of the throng in the side lines. The afternoon was devoted largely to receptions and reunions.

In the evening thousands attended a concert at Mechanics' Pavilion. Gen. Nelson A. Miles was the guest of the Spanish-American war veterans. The Women's Relief Corps gave a reception to Commander-in-Chief Stewart. A camp fire at the armory of Spanish-American veterans closed the events of the night.

Farmers, Fruit Growers, Dairy-men and Others to Combine in National Organization.

A CONFERENCE HELD IN CHICAGO.

It is Claimed That it Will Save Large Sums of Money Paid in Commissions.

The Plan Contemplates the Erection of Grain Elevators and Cold Storage Warehouses in All Parts of the Country.

Chicago, Aug. 20.—Plans for combining farmers, fruit growers, dairy-men and all other producers of natural food products into one national organization were considered at a conference Wednesday between representatives of several farmers' co-operative associations. This movement has for its purpose the maintaining of prices, the control of distribution of products and the saving of large sums of money paid in commissions. The plan under consideration contemplates the erection of grain elevators and cold storage warehouses in all parts of the country where products may be held if necessary until such times as they can be marketed at a fair price. As a result of the conference it was decided to hold a farmers' convention in Chicago on September 8 to consider detailed plans of organization.

The call for the convention follows: In view of the uncertainties at present attending the reporting of crops and markets and of prices of farm products a meeting was held at Chicago Wednesday by representatives of several farmers' co-operative associations to devise means looking to the betterment of present conditions. It was agreed to call another meeting that would more fully represent the organized and unorganized farmers' interests. Said meeting is called for September 8 at the Grand Pacific hotel. It is desired that all organizations representing the various agricultural products, grain, stock, fruit, cotton, dairy and other interests must be represented.

Progressive farmers are all invited to attend, so that one of the present plans may be adopted or that from all of them one may be devised that will be most acceptable to the agricultural interests and in which all workers for the upbuilding of the country can unite.

The call is signed by Robert Lindbloom, president Farmers' National Co-operative exchange, Chicago; J. A. Everitt, president American Society of Equity, Indianapolis, and D. L. Wilson, representing the dairy interests, Elgin, Ill. It was claimed by those who attended Wednesday's conference that when the organization is completed the farmer will be able to get $1 a bushel for wheat, 60 cents for corn and 40 cents for oats throughout the year.

Washington, the Alabama educator and president of the league, was the central figure of the convention and his address Wednesday night attracted a large audience.

EX-SENATOR DEBOE.

He Testified For the Defense in the Caleb Powers Trial.

Georgetown, Ky., Aug. 20.—Former United States senator William B. Deboe took the witness stand for the defense in the Caleb Powers case Wednesday afternoon. He gave testimony for the first time in these cases. He said that he went from Washington to Kentucky on January 16, 1900, and stopped at Frankfort to see Gov. Taylor. He went on to Louisville and attended the Galt house meeting of leading republicans, at which the contest was fully discussed. Taylor never informed him of his purpose to have a mountain army of petitioners go to Frankfort, nor did he attend any meetings at Frankfort. He denied vigorously ever having any conversation with the convict, Henry Youtsey, in which any reference was made to taking the life of William Goebel. He left Frankfort the night of the day before the shooting, returning to Washington to talk to President McKinley about the Kentucky situation. He had already asked the president and other prominent men of both parties at Washington, he said, to exert a moral influence to the Kentucky democrats to abandon the contest. Later he asked the president to send federal troops to Kentucky, Gov. Taylor having urged it in a telegram, after the killing of Goebel. He said that he saw nothing disorderly in the mountain crowd at Frankfort on January 25, 1900. On cross-examination by Commonwealth Attorney Franklin, Senator Deboe was asked if, while en route to Washington on January 30, 1900, the day of the shooting, he did not say in response to a question of Gen. Green Clay, U. S. A., of Missouri, as to whether President McKinley would interfere and send federal troops to Kentucky that that had been tried by the Kentucky republicans and failed; that in any event Goebel would be seated as governor. He responded that he had no recollection of meeting Gen. Clay, and certainly said nothing of that sort to him.

She was unconscious for an hour, but physicians say she will recover.

Shouse, dry goods, Samaritan drug store, the Citizens' bank, East Tennessee Telephone Co., G. B. Hawkins & Co. and C. E. Bond. Dr. A. Hoffeld was badly injured and John E. Skelton, of Shelbyville, sustained a broken ankle by falling walls.

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 20.—Harry Shepard, a prominent citizen of Cave City, Ky., died at St. Joseph's infirmary, this city, Wednesday morning as a result of being shot by an unknown Negro whom he was trying to arrest at Cave City for alleged counterfeiting. WILL RECONSIDER.

Colombian Congress to Outline Terms and Conditions For a New Canal Treaty.

CHANGE IN THE TURN OF AFFAIRS

The Senate Voted to Appoint a Committee to Act With a House Committee in the Matter.

An Enabling Measure to Be Passed Giving the President of Colombia Full Power to Act in the Premises.

Washington, Aug. 20.—Unofficial, but what is considered entirely trustworthy information, has been received by Dr. Herran, the Colombian charge d'affaires here, indicating an intention on the part of the Colombian senate to resume consideration of the subject of a Panama canal treaty in place of the one disapproved by that body on the 12th instant. This shows a decided change in the turn of affairs and leads Dr. Herran to hope that a measure yet will be passed by congress which will form the basis for the ratification of a treaty between the United States of Colombia and the United States of America for the construction of the isthmian canal.

Dr. Herran's information is that on the 13th the senate voted to appoint a committee of three members to act jointly with a committee from the house of representatives the formation of a measure having for its object the ratification of a treaty between the two countries by the executive of Colombia after the two houses of the Colombian congress had passed an enabling act outlining the terms and conditions on which a treaty should be drawn. The president of Colombia by this act would have full power in the premises, and the treaty would not have to be afterwards submitted to the Colombian congress. The scheme is similar in its intent to the provisions of the Dingley tariff act which gave authority to the president to negotiate reciprocity treaties with foreign powers, except that in that case they had to be ratified by the United States senate. The idea contained in the proposition is not dissimilar to the Spooner act itself, as this act gave authority to the president to begin negotiations with the governments of Nicaragua and Costa Rica in the event that he was unable to reach a satisfactory agreement with Colombia for a right of way for the Panama canal.

MACEDONIAN SITUATION.

Unless it Improves the Powers Will Send Squadrons.

London, Aug. 20.—The Daily Mail asserts that Great Britain, Russia and Turkey are laying in enormous abnormal quantities of Welsh steam coal, presumably in preparation for all eventualities. The British admiralty has asked for quotations for 1,000,000 tons for storage at the British stations, principally Gibraltar and Malta, for four months ending December, which is double the quantity usually required. Russia wants nearly as much coal and Turkey is buying extensively.

The Daily Mail further understands that unless the Macedonian situation improves all the powers will probably send squadrons to Turkish waters.

JAPAN AND RUSSIA.

All Fears of War Between the Two Countries Are Groundless.

London, Aug. 20.—An agency's interview with Viscount Halashi, the Japanese minister, quotes him as saying: "Not only I, but my government, disclaim all the panic stories of war between Russia and Japan." All fears of a conflict are groundless. Both Russia and Japan are really trying to be conciliatory. War would not be an advantage to either. So far it has been a game of bluff. Japan has no warships building in England and has not increased the strength of her army in view of pending events.

Nominated For Congress.

Houston, Tex., Aug. 20.—On the first ballot Wednesday night John M. Pinckney, of Waller county, was nominated for congress by the democratic convention for the Eighth district. He will succeed T. H. Ball, resigned.

The truth is what hurts, is the reason Republicans now hate and abuse Youtsey so.

As long as Henry Youtsey was liar as well as assassin Republicans had nothing but soft words for him.

When it comes to lying, Taylor at Indiana can give Youtsey "two and the game" and beat him, for he's been a standing liar ever since he has been in the hoosier State.

It's probable that Youtsey isn't any bigger liar now than he was when the Republican managers at Frankfort were trusting him with the details of William Goebel's assassination.

It's a little strange that Republicans didn't find out that Henry Youtsey was so base and dishonorable before he became a party to Goebel's assassination. But then, such characters were in demand by Taylor and his gang at that crisis.

There is nothing more injurious to a town, county or State than its own newspapers constantly maligning it. The editorial squibs in the Maysville Ledger would have the outside world believe that such men as Caleb Powers and his gang who murdered the late William Goebel are "saints," and that the Kentucky courts and their prosecuting attorneys are persecuting a number of our best and most prominent citizens for committing a crime that the Ledger man never yet has looked upon as a crime at all. The Ledger on one page invites investing capital and on another page tells the world that our criminal courts are manipulated for the sole purpose of hanging innocent persons because they are Republicans and "happened" to be in Frankfort on the day that Goebel was shot down. If we are not mistaken the Ledger editor intimated that because of the connection of the Hargis faction with Jett and White, the convicted slayers of Marcum, the jury, being composed of Democrats, would be slow to find a verdict for the Commonwealth, and since the verdict was rendered he has not passed his customary comments as in the cases of Youtsey, Powers, &c.

STUPID SLANDER.

As illustrating the reckless methods by which the Republicans are trying to make partisan capital of the Marcum murder, a recent Cynthia letter to the Chicago Inter Ocean is interesting. Here are sample gems from that contribution:

The Governor has pardoned Jett so often on the request of Judge Hargis that it is thought he will do so again should he be convicted of this crime. But the defense will do all in its power to prevent a conviction to save the Governor from this embarrassment.

Many pardons have been issued directly after the indictment. Curtis Jett, seventeen years of age, has been pardoned eight times, and at least five of those pardons were issued before he was convicted.

The process of trying a man and convicting him increased Judge Hargis' taxes and the taxes of many other citizens of Breathitt County. Judge Hargis, being a practical man, reasoned with himself that as the Governor had to pardon the man anyhow, it would be better to have a pardon before the man was convicted. Thus grew up a custom peculiar to Kentucky.

Past events indicate that Jett and White, if they ever are convicted, will be pardoned by Governor Beckham so many times before that the Governor can scarcely be inconsistent enough to refuse just one more pardon.

"The one grain of truth in this sheaf of lies," says the Courier-Journal, "is that Gov. Beckham has pardoned Curtis Jett just once, and then James Marcum, whom Jett afterwards assassinated, recommended the pardon."

THE FAIR.

City Thronged on Opening Day to Witness the Industrial Parade.

Fine Display of Live Stock in the Afternoon—List of the Successful Exhibitors—To-Day's Program.

The industrial parade that marked the opening of the Elks fair Wednesday was witnessed by the largest crowd seen in Maysville in a long time. It was a regular circus day crowd, Second and Market streets being thronged.

The train that brought Weber's Band from Cincinnati was delayed, and on this account the procession was late in starting. It was about 11 o'clock when Grand Marshal Holton gave the order, and headed by Chief of Police Donovan and his force, mounted, followed by the Grand Marshal and assistants, and Weber's fine band the procession moved over the route heretofore outlined. Maysville's merchants, with some manufactories were represented by gaily decorated floats and wagons, and the parade, while some thought it not up to former ones, was a creditable one.

The first prize of $15 for the handsomest merchants' or manufacturers' float was awarded to John I. Winter & Co. and second prize of $10 to Thompson & McAtee. Mrs. Lizzie Power was awarded first prize of $12 for the handsomest turnout, Daulton Bros. getting second prize of $8 and Myall & Dickson the third prize of $5.

The display of live stock in the afternoon was up to that of former years. Some of the rings had a large number of entries, nine horses contesting for one of the premiums. The storm that came up at 4 o'clock prevented the completion of the day's awards. The following were the successful exhibitors:

THE INSTITUTE.

Annual Meeting of the Teachers to Close
To-day—Interesting Discussions at Wednesday's Session.

Wednesday's session of the institute was occupied with discussions of nature study, reading and grammar. The meeting adjourned at 10 o'clock a. m., that the teachers might witness the parade, so that the morning session was necessarily short.

Prof. Drushel occupied the first period of time at the morning session. He reviewed his previous talk on the process of digestion, calling attention to the results of the experiments he had previously made. He followed with a discussion of nature study, elaborating upon how plants feed. He brought in a small armful of plants to illustrate his work. He divided plant life into two classes: Those that are green, and those that are not. Of the latter class, fungi, bacteria, etc., were but lightly touched upon. He spoke of the means of reproduction and of selective absorption, and gave beautiful illustrations of the leaves as being the skin, stomach and lungs of the plant.

Prof. Withers followed with a talk on the study of the individual pupil and the preparation necessary upon the part of the teacher. He connected this with the topic of reading and enlarged upon getting thought from the printed page. The discussion was from a purely psych-logical standpoint and elicited a number of pertinent questions from Prof. Swift and others.

At the afternoon session Prof. Drushel resumed his nature study work which was greatly enjoyed. He was followed by Prof. Withers who gave a most instructive talk on how to conduct a class in grammar. His methods were practical and seemed to be very well received.

Prof. Drushel's last talk was occupied with a discussion of the wild lettuce plant which he pronounced the coming pest in this vicinity. He will to-day discuss poisonous plants.

Prof. Withers closed the day's work with a talk on "How to Study and Use Books." He ended with a discussion on the science of grammar.

The institute closes to-day, Friday and Saturday being the last examination dates for this year.

A number of teachers are to take the county and State examinations.

Mr. Chester Frogge, aged twenty, son of Mr. John G. Frogge, of Mayslick, and Miss Alice M. Clinger, aged sixteen, daughter of Mr. John Clinger, of Fern Leaf, eloped to Georgetown, O., last Thursday and were married. The groom is one of the county's fine and industrious young men. The bride is a beautiful girl, and has many lovely traits of character. Their many friends extend hearty good wishes for the happiness of this young couple. Her parents objected to the marriage because of her youth.

TOBACCO GROWERS.

Important Meeting of the Association to be Held Friday at Lexington.

The following circular letter has been sent out to the members of the Tobacco Growers' Association of the Burley district:

Dear Sir: The committee appointed to finance the company is ready to report, and a large mass meeting is invited for Friday, Aug. 21st, at the court house, Lexington, at 2 p. m., to hear the report and take action, as on this effort depends the life or death of our enterprise.

Your committee has labored as never before, and all that you and we have done goes for nothing if we do not go on. Leave the worms and suckers for a day and attend to this call. If you can't come yourself, contribute toward sending a representative. Yours truly,

W. B. HAWKINS,
Pres't Burley Tobacco Growers' Association.

Bill Taylor will need to have a care lest he gets his passports from the State of Indiana along with the colored crowd that is being hurried from the Hoosier midst.

Additional Personal.

—Mr. E. H. Neibitt and son Hugh have returned from Owingsville.

—Mr. G. Y. Reynolds, of Lexington, is down visiting relatives in the county, and attending the fair.

—Miss Lyle Hutchison, of Elizaville, is visiting Miss Celia Hutchison, of Forest avenue, and attending the fair.

—Rev. and Mrs. Howard T. Cree, of St. Louis, after spending a week here with friends, left this morning for Lexington.

A CITIZEN DISCUSSES

A Vital Question—Fraught With Interest to Maysville People.

When a citizen right here at home makes a public statement like the following, all room for doubt disappears and the most skeptical must be convinced. It's pretty hard for our readers to prove a statement made by a stranger living in some far-away point of the union, but the endorsement of neighbors, friends and citizens is the best of proof; no better evidence can be had:

Mr. P. Gantley, grocer of 314 East Fourth street, says: "The prompt and thorough relief from backache given by Doan's Kidney Pills is the strongest endorsement possible. When backache is caused by the lack of proper action of the kidneys the only reason for continuing to suffer is the want of knowledge of Doan's Kidney Pills. I procured them at J. Jas. Wood & Son's drug store, West Second and Market streets."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—DOAN'S—and take no substitute.
